Hi Jesse. Thanks again. This is Noelle, so you have my number too as needed.

Hey Noelle. I need to keep security comms of of the BCS email system until the domain issue is resolved. I saw your email.

Somebody pulled your access and Megan's. Probably Jeremy Whitely but I'm confirming that. How urgently do you need them restored? I still have access but I'm trying to gather evidence before I do something the bad guys can see.

4:33 PM

Oh yes. Sorry about that. Yeah, I no

Oh yes. Sorry about that. Yeah, I no longer have Google Console "ownership," so I assume something is going on.

I don't have an urgent need. It just allowed me to get in and monitor the initial attack or fix broken links here and there.

4:34 PM

Ok here's my plan and I'm open for input. I screenshot today's user list which shows me, JW and admin@ . As you know google does not provide immediate access to their security log so I can't tell when your access was pulled or by whom.

I've reached out to google support to get that as additional evidence

They are probably going to confirm it was JW.

When they do, probably tomorrow, I'll forward the evidence to legal. Until then I think we should not do anything that let's them know we are onto them.

After that I can restore your access and Megan's and I can walk you through the verification steps that have so far stopped them from also locking me out.

4:43 PM

That makes perfect sense. Sounds good. I will not try to regain access. I was able to see that log through Google Webmaster or something like that. When I get home I can look through my screenshots to try to direct you there.

4:43 PM

Though it's possible that they'll succeed at locking me out before then.

Oh I can check there.

4:43 PM

Ok sounds great. We'll take things stride and see what happens here.

4:46 PM

Sorry, Zoom crashed. One sec.

5:38 PM

Ok I'm back in. I'm pretty confident I caused this by deactivating the Google Site Kit plug-in. I'm not seeing anything suspicious on the Google Webmaster Central, which is where I was seeing the exchange of access last time.

6:20 PM

It looks like the "reverification failed" started a week ago when I was last messing with the plugins and deactivated the one in question.

6:24 PM

Great. Were Megan's credentials also reinstated?

6:34 PM

Not yet. Admin@brealingcodesilence was reinstated. I'm in the plug-in now looking to do that, or I can add her back in manually from the Console

6:40 PM

I just manually restored her access as well and sent her a quick message to let her know what happened.

6:51 PM

Great. Thank you. Has the result been reported to Jenny and Vanessa?

7:59 PM

Yes, I texted Vanessa to let her know.

8:00 PM

Great. Thanks.

8:00 PM

No problem. Thank you so much for your help. I'm really sorry for the unnecessary scare.

8:01 PM

Honest mistake. No problem.
